EXT. CLOUDS - OVERCAST DAY

Clouds taper open to reveal a sunny day.

EXT. FIELD - ORC CAMP - SUNNY DAY

A motley arrangement of giant conical tent tops poke out to the sky. Amongst them, almost forgotten is a baby tent.

At its opening, surrounded by pots and pans, sits a TINY ORC, GUT, 10 and every bit of small and cute. His slender green ears attentively waver like antennas, eyes drift over the cover of an old tattered barely held together leaf notebook titled 'Das ist Gut.' It's filled with unevenly stacked pages, clearly missing many of them.

Gut opens it, holds a quill, and diligently writes different ingredients.

GUT
Grapes, Cheese, Snails.

Suddenly, TREMORS, as grass crushes into footprints under SEISMIC STOMPS. Mountainous shadows sway closer, blink out the sun and blanket gut.

Gut is confronted by the muscular peaks and valleys of VARIOUS ORC STARES. The largest ORC - GRIME, in front summons a great intestinal…

GRIME
(Buuuuuuuurrrrp!)
Maces!, Hammers!, Shields!

Grime insists Gut join them on a raid. No is not an answer.

GRIME (CONT'D)
(through laughter)
Time to march with your always friends Butt.

Gut motions one hand to himself and then both hands to his cookware.

GUT
It's G-U-T, and these are my friends.

ORCS wipe drool and snot from their FACES.

ALL ORCS
To the castle!

Gut meekly responds.

GUT
Maybe next time?

ALL ORCS
Castle!

Gut TOOTS, BURPS. Covers his face in embarrassment. Scissors open a sideways V with his fingers and peeks through.

A castle’s memories await for a little one to find his place.

OrcBurp.